Dear Miles,

Thank you for your correspondence regarding the Time to Align campaign.

The James Jansson Team for New South Wales (Group S for the Legislative Council in the 2019 NSW state election) supports legislative reform and fair and intelligent regulation. This includes national alignment of standards for modified vehicles.

As such, we endorse the following points:

- We acknowledge disparity in vehicle modification standards and processes across all state and territory jurisdictions;
- We pledge to move towards a federally managed vehicle modification set of standards and processes, as recommended in the “Time To Align” campaign;
- We accept a national working group involving the federal government, automotive industry, motoring communities, as equal co-chairs / lead appointments, to guide and manage the ongoing development of a National Vehicle Modification Framework; and
- We support the establishment of a national approval and certification scheme for all automotive engineers, approved persons, vehicle inspectors, and technical workshops.

We are committed to working with federal government to achieve these outcomes.

Yours sincerely,
